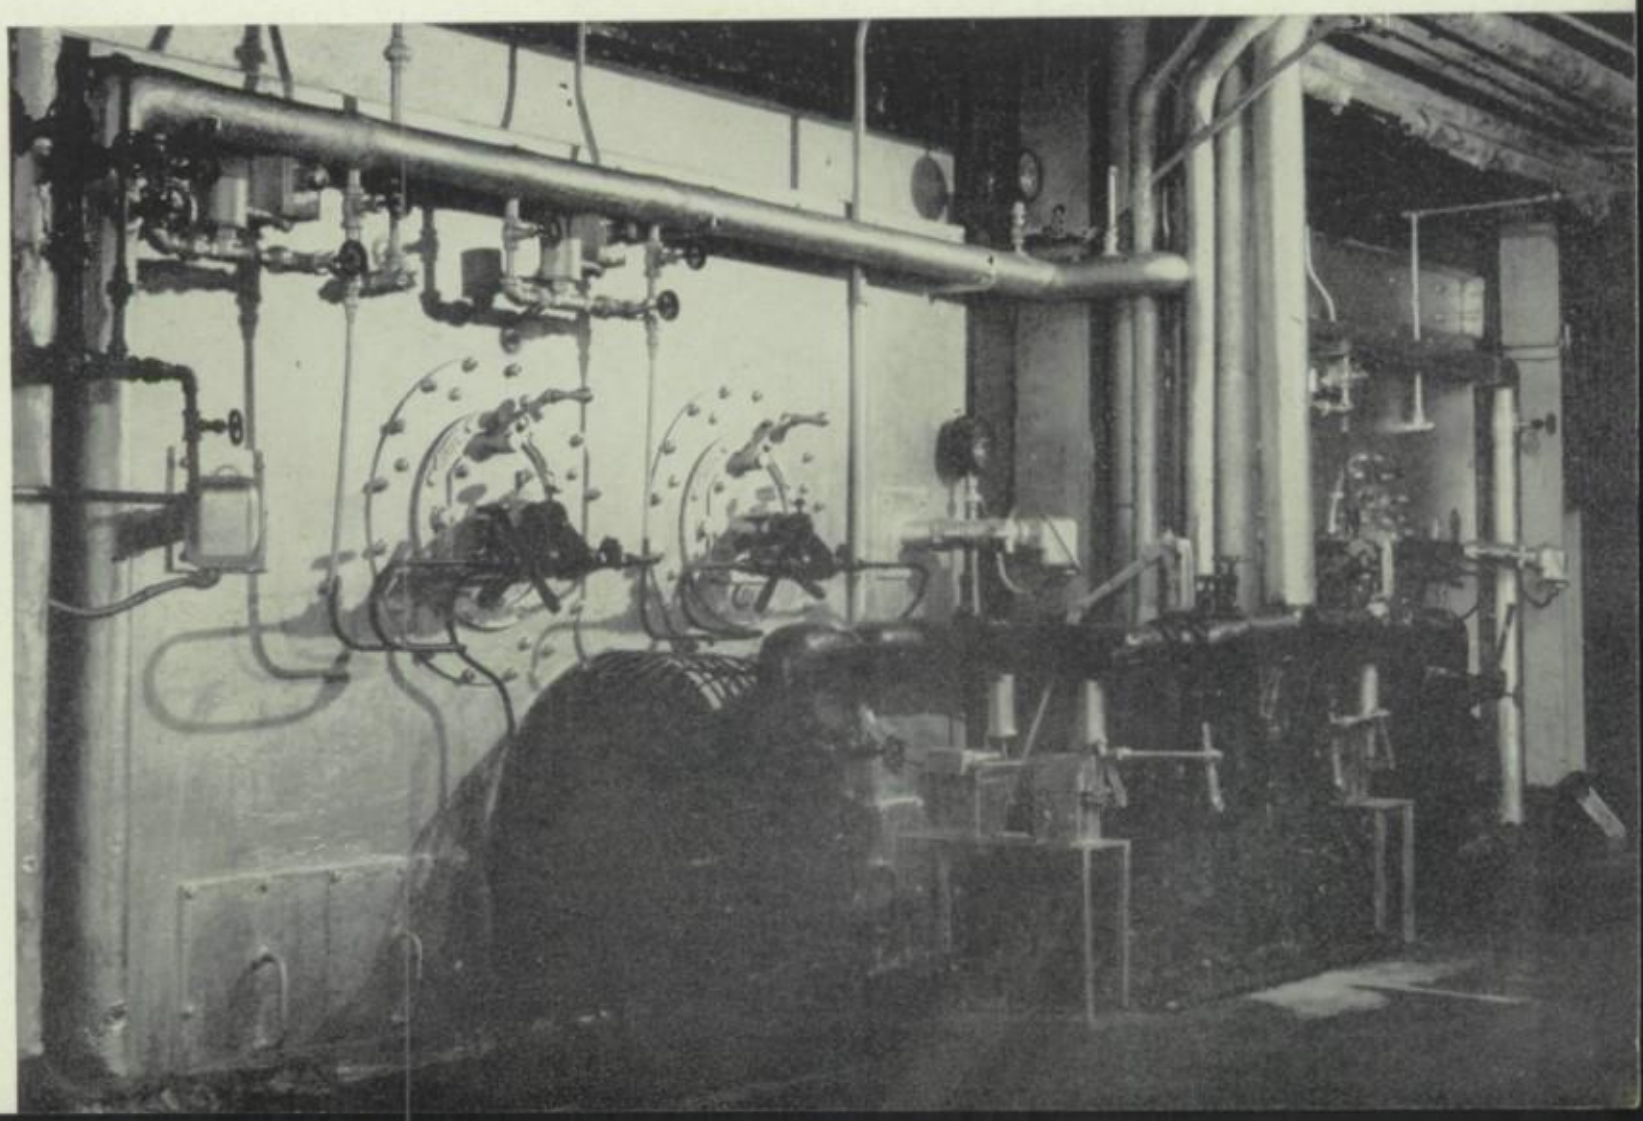
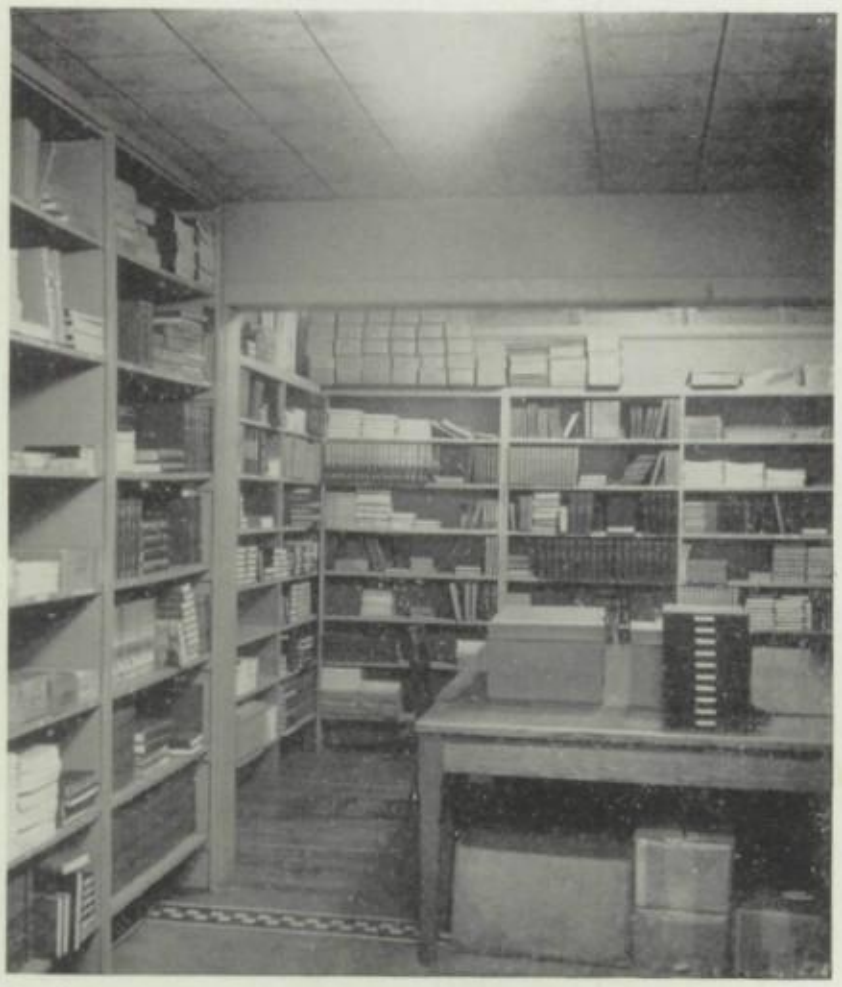
From the Attic . . .

. . . To The Boiler Room . . .





Bookstore.

This is our school, which we will long remember. To us, it is not just a building with rooms in which to study. It is the easy laughter escaping from classrooms; the friendly confusion in the halls between periods. It is the cheering at a sports event; the sharing of a sandwich at lunch.

It is the suspense before a curtain rises on the opening night of a play or operetta; the attentiveness at an assembly. It is the reunion with old friends early in September and the reluctance mixed with expectation on Commencement night in June.

. . . Our School Plant . . .

Study hall 225.

. . . Is Effective

This is our school, which has been growing for forty-seven years. In 1906 the building consisted of seven ground - floor classrooms and the three floors above them. The auditorium, without the balcony, was added in 1910. Three years later the lunchroom and the industrial arts rooms were built. By 1922 the east section had been constructed. The west wing, along with the kitchen and elevator, followed in 1924. The stadium, the fieldhouse, and the girls' gymnasium were added in 1927.

Our school will continue to grow, but we will remember it as it is now, in 1953. This is our year; these are our activities; this is our school.

To Mr. Roehm . . .

We, the editors, dedicate our 1953 Tabula to a man with many great qualities. Mr. Roehm, affectionately called "Pancho," is a person known for his friendliness and his intelligence. He shows no favoritism, but rather demonstrates a personal interest in each student.

In his classroom Mr. Roehm is master of what he teaches. His students leave with a feeling of real satisfaction. His wonderful sense of humor, his quality of understanding, his rich resources of knowledge, and his method of bringing interesting outside experiences into his classes, all make him worthy of recognition.

As co-author of the history book, "The Record of Mankind," which is used in our World History course, Mr. Roehm is recognized as an authority in this important field.

Mr. Roehm shows his interest in the students of this school by his sponsorship of the debating club, Lincoln, and by the hard work he does each election year to bring us a realistic and interesting "mock convention."

For all these things we are grateful. We are proud to dedicate this Tabula to you, Mr. Roehm!

Board of Education

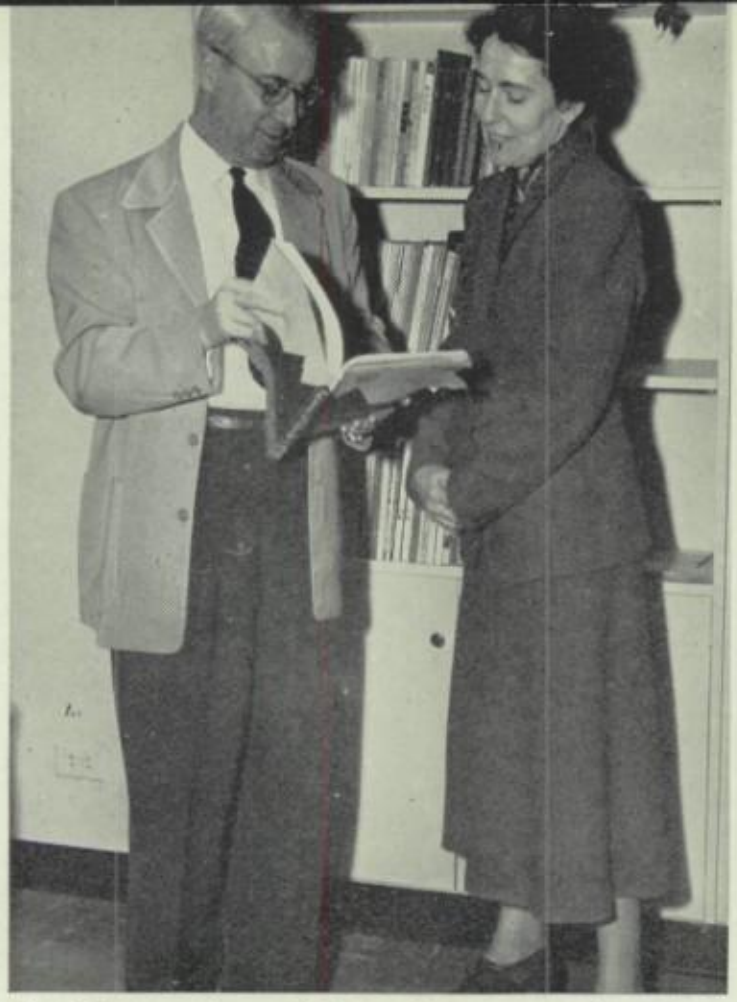
Dr. Eugene Youngert supervises our school.

Able Administrators . . .

The members of the Board of Education, men and women elected by the community, serve Oak Park and River Forest High School capably and devotedly, and work constantly for improvement of the school system.

Dr. Youngert, as superintendent, directs the affairs of our school. He is interested in providing an efficient and attractive school plant and in maintaining the high standards of which we are proud. His work extends beyond this community to membership in sectional and national committees. He frequently represents us at educational meetings.



Mr. Fritzemeier and Miss Horner guide seniors to college decisions.

The eight deans serve our varying needs throughout our high school careers, giving advice about programs, vocations, and colleges, and discussing with us our personal difficulties.

In our freshman year, Miss Pring and Mr. Seymour help us adjust ourselves to the new surroundings of high school.

Miss Ball and Mr. Fuog give us, as sophomores, counsel on our problems and assist us in planning ahead for the important junior and senior years.

Several aptitude, inventory, and other kinds of tests are given during the junior year, from which Mrs. Grant and Mr. Cady, the junior deans, are able to get a better understanding of our individual problems.

In our senior year, Miss Horner and Mr. Fritzemeier are concerned with our happy and successful completion of high school, and are equally interested in our postgraduate plans.

. . . Direct Our School

Mr. Cady and Dr. Grant give juniors vocational tests. Mr. Fuog and Miss Ball confer on sophomore problems. Dr. Pring and Mr. Seymour direct freshman futures.

Students Help Govern the School

Councils Represent Student Opinion

The councils are an important part of our school life. They represent the students in school affairs. Members gain valuable experience in working with others and in assuming responsibility.

Student Council, with representatives from each class, is supervised by Dr. Youngert. Traditionally the activities of the council include maintaining the Information Desk and planning the pep rallies. This year, in addition, the group printed and sold basketball programs and established a council treasury. Delegates were sent to District and State Student Council Conventions.

Safety Council is divided into six committees. Committees on driving, signs, halls, and bicycles function daily. Two other committees take care of programs and publicity.

The three class councils are advised by the respective deans. Senior Council organizes Class Day, the project of the Junior Council is the Junior Prom, and Freshman Council concerns itself helping freshmen adjust to high school life and become good school citizens.

Smoking Council, like Safety Council, maintains a court to try violators of the high school's smoking rules.

Girls' Club . . .

Girls' Club, to which every girl in the school belongs, is governed by the five officers and the council, under the supervision of Miss Horner.

The many activities of the Girls' Club include parties for new girls and sophomore girls, and the Big-Little Sister Party for freshman and senior girls. Girls' Club conducts Tag Day for Chicago Commons and participates actively in the Suburban Girls' Conference. There are three all-girl assemblies throughout the year.

school stresses scholarship

Four years of English are required of every student. The first two years build a firm foundation in comprehension, communication, and grammar.

In the last two years, American Literature is required for one credit. The other credit may be earned in a year course in English Literature, or a semester of English Readings and a semester of Creative Writing, Expository Writing, Public Speaking, or Journalism.

The History Department offers eight courses, two of which are required for graduation.

World History or Early European History is required in the sophomore or junior year. Early European History is usually followed by the semester course of Later European History or a year course of Modern History.

American History is also a required course and may be taken in either the junior or senior year.

Other interesting history courses include Latin-American History, Social Problems, and Sociology. Community Civics is a semester course open to freshmen only.

Our Language Department affords us an opportunity to learn a language other than our own by giving instruction in four languages.

The modern languages — French, German, and Spanish — stress idioms and pronunciation for ease in conversations about typical situations. Those in advanced classes are expected to speak fluently and always use the language in class. Also, the study of native dances, songs, and customs makes the language more vivid.

Latin vocabulary and English derivatives play a leading role in the study of Latin. Important Latin authors are also read for a better knowledge of the Romans.

Could this be a Latin joke?

Monsieur Dick Cottle talks about France.

Though only one year of mathematics is required for graduation, the Mathematics Department serves many students in each of its several courses.

Either General Mathematics or Algebra is taken by freshmen to meet the requirement for graduation. These may be followed by other math courses during the remaining three years.

Among the more advanced courses are Plane Geometry and Advanced Algebra, taken by sophomores and juniors. There is a semester and a year course of Advanced Algebra, the semester course being taken by students who have qualified for a rapid course and wish to take as much math as possible.

For students who have completed Advanced Algebra, semester courses of Solid Geometry, Trigonometry, and College Algebra complete a four-year math program.

A semester course in Shop Mathematics is also available.

Physical Sciences Present Laws of Matter And Energy

Chemistry students work out many problems in the laboratory. The year is highlighted with a study of nuclear energy. In Everyday Chemistry, a non-mathematical approach is made to chemical principles.

Students in Physics learn the underlying principles of important mechanisms.

Art Aids Appreciation

The Art Department offers several fine courses, primary and advanced, for students who want to take art for their own pleasure and for those who plan to make a career in art.

A background in art is first established in Arts I and II. In these basic courses, as in the advanced, an appreciation of both the modern and classical works of art is established.

Those who wish to go farther into their study of art are able to take such courses as Commercial Art, Figure I and II, and Oil Painting.

Business Trains for Careers

A large number of students take a business course at one time or another because of vocational necessity or the desire to acquire a handy skill.

All of the business courses cover one semester only, except for a year course in Typing I. General Business, an introductory course, is the only one offered to freshmen, and Typing I, either a semester or year, is the only business course that sophomores may take.

Typing I, II, and III, Stenography I, II, and III, Bookkeeping I and II, Office Practice, and Secretarial Training are open to juniors and seniors, along with Business Law, Economics, and Economic Problems.

Home Economics Teaches Useful Arts

Home Economics is one of the fastest growing elective departments in the school. Many girls take advantage of the modern facilities to learn more of foods, clothing, and home management.

Clothing I emphasizes clothing, grooming, and personality. Clothing II stresses the selection and color of textiles, as well as the care of clothes. In Clothing III, time is spent on individual budget and wardrobe problems.

In Foods I, simple meals are prepared. Foods II teaches menu-planning and food preservation and gives practice in the cooking and serving of meals.

Home Management I and II offer practical training in family living and domestic duties.

The Industrial Arts Department offers a wide variety of useful courses for boys and several courses for girls.

Many freshman boys and girls take a semester of Industrial Arts I or Crafts. To those interested in this work, more advanced courses are open, such as Industrial Arts II, Advanced Metal, Machine Shop, Auto Shop, Advanced Woodworking, Mechanical Drawing, Machine Drawing, and Architectural Drawing. Metal Arts is a course in the designing and making of jewelry.

Library Provides Background Materials

The librarians, Miss Crawford and Miss Wurtzbach, besides their regular library duties, give book talks to classes, show new students how to use the library, and aid students in research. Mrs. Pelz assists the librarians, helping in the preparation of book material, and supervising the history library.

Student assistants help check books and deliver overdue slips to homerooms. Others work each period in the history study-hall library. Some helpers do this as required work in Library Practice.

Projection Staff Shows Many Films

Projection Staff is an important service group. Besides showing movies to the classes, each member is assigned for one semester to a key job, such as checking films or oiling projectors. A credit is given to the projectionist after two years of work.

John Clow and Joyce Brow test reactions.

This past year saw the beginning of a new driving instruction course. Class periods provided information and developed attitudes by the use of movies and text illustrations as well as through discussions of the mechanics of driving, traffic laws, and highway signs. Students drove their family cars under parental supervision. Near the end of the semester the state driving tests were given to all who qualified.

Driving and Reading Receive Special Attention

A reading improvement course is offered to all students who wish to become better readers. Both reading skills and study habits are stressed. The three main areas emphasized are comprehension, vocabulary, and rate.

Two instruments are used as a help to some pupils. The reading accelerator aids in developing rhythmical eye movements needed in increasing rate, while the tachistoscope increases eye span and improves ability to see groups of words quickly.

Between twenty and thirty lessons are usually required for completion of the course.

The staff meets third period to write copy, read proof, and paste dummy pages. After-school time is often required. A Cub Staff was organized this year to help the regular staff and to learn publications procedures. Miss Shuart supervises the editorial work for Trapeze.

We of the Class of 1953 are proud of our school and of the years that we have spent here. We value our achievements in the classroom, on the athletic field, on the stage, and in our conference meetings. Our leaders, who include our class officers, our scholastic leaders, the editors of our publications, our team captains, our actresses and actors, and our conference officers, are students who have proved their ability in important undertakings. As we receive our diplomas on that long-awaited Commencement evening, we shall certainly look ahead to the future, but we shall also look back upon, and remember with pleasure, our high school days at Oak Park and River Forest High School.

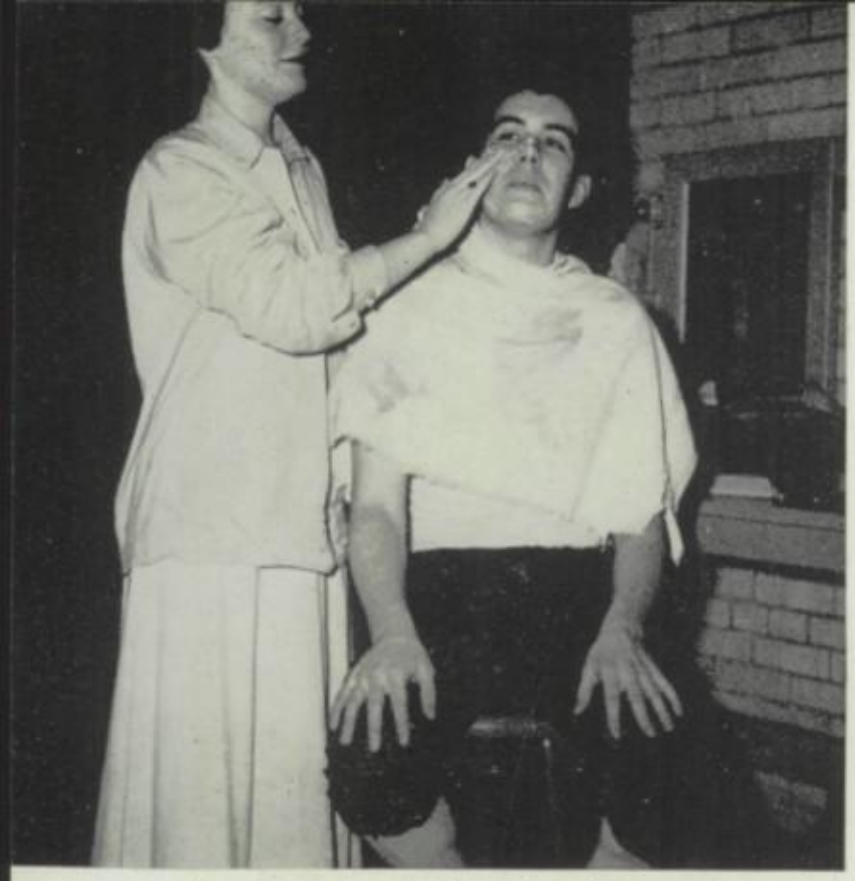
Stage Magic Is Built



Hope Carroll helps Ken Howard put on make-up.

Crews and Committees . . .

The members of the Production Crew are responsible for maintaining the scene shop, for building the scenery, and for creating all lighting effects for school dramatic productions. They also work on many projects for outside groups using the auditorium.

The committees for school productions handle the behind-the-scenes details which help to make a good show. Such committees as properties, costumes, make-up, publicity, tickets, and programs are essential elements of each school production.

. . . In Work Behind the Scenes

"Two milk and three o' cream."

"Well, I knew all I had to do was call your attention to it. Here's your handkerchief."

"I'd rather have my children healthy than bright."

"Aren't they a lovely couple?

"That's what it said on the envelope."

Miss Miller directs.

. . . Is Well Liked

"By your mother's memory, Alida."

"The Streets of New York"

This year's Senior Class Play was an old-fashioned melodrama, "The Streets of New York," presented May 1 and 2 under the direction of Mr. Knowles Cooke. The play, first presented during the panic of 1857, was played straight in the style of the times.

The cast in order of appearance was as follows: Gideon Bloodgood: Kenneth Howard; Edwards: Raymond Gleason; Badger: Arthur Bramhall; Captain Adam Fairweather: Richard Schwarze; Mark Livingstone: Jud Strickland; Puffy: William Bramburg; Mrs. Fairweather: Brit-Marie Jepson; Paul Fairweather: Roger Bennett; Policemen: Hans Nelson, Robert Hummel; Reporter: Robert Benson; Alida Bloodgood: Sara Giddings; Lucy Fairweather: Felicia Dove; Mrs. Puffy: Carolyn Parker; Dan Puffy: Henry Lisheid; First Deputy Sheriff: Kenneth Rakouska; Second Deputy Sheriff: Harold Holden; First Gentleman: Roger Carlson; Second Gentleman: Ladd Fagerson; Porter: Thomas Soderstrom; Third Gentleman: Roderick Grant; Duke of Calcavella: Robert Baehr.

A Cappella Choir . . .

A Cappella Choir, membership in which is highly prized, is directed by Miss Edna Ruth Wood. A successful, active year included the presentation of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Iolanthe," and an appearance on television. The choir presented the annual Christmas Vespers and appeared at other school programs and community affairs.

Many of the ensembles draw their membership almost exclusively from this choir. Ensembles provide more experience and enjoyment to the members. All have appeared extensively at outside performances as well as in school programs.

"Iolanthe" Presented . . .

The Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta, "Iolanthe," was presented in two performances this year. Assisting the A Cappella Choir, directed by Miss Wood, was the Concert Orchestra, conducted by Mr. Little. Most of the parts were double cast, as follows:

Mr. Willis was the Dramatic Director, Miss Miller was the Dance Director, Mr. Cooke directed the Stage Crew, and Mr. Kendall was in charge of the construction of the scenes. designed and painted under the direction of Mr. Pelz.

Hastings is hit.

The Varsity football team, under the direction of Coach Anderson, had a good season, winning five games, losing two, and tying one. The Huskies finished in third place in the Suburban League behind New Trier and Evanston.

The Huskies were well represented on the All-Suburban team. Chuck Lehwald, end, Chuck Joslin, guard, Roger Vasey, safety, and Bud Dike, linebacker, were named to the defensive team. Dave Silhanek, tackle, was named to the offensive team. Joslin and Dike were further honored by being named to the first and third string All-State teams, respectively.

At the conclusion of the season, Dike and Silhanek were chosen co-captains.

. . . State Title

The 1952 Huskie soccer team won the state championship by virtue of winning fourteen, losing two, and tying one. Oak Park set a new national interscholastic scoring record of seventy-one goals, breaking the old record by eight goals.

John Budziu was the leading scorer in the state, with twenty-six goals, two shy of the state record. He, together with Fred Zeitler and Bob Christensen, was named to the All-State first team. Co-captains Ron Martin and Tom Colmey were named to the All-State second team. Dick Bushing, Don Carter, Don Caputo, Art Clark, Wade Barber, and Dick Flodin rounded out the starting eleven.

The record of this year's championship squad was a fitting tribute to Coach John Wood, who last summer was the coach of the United States' Olympic soccer team.

. . . Fair Season

Coach Harshbarger's 1952 cross-country team had a fairly successful season. The Huskies won four dual meets and lost five. The team finished fifth in the Suburban League Meet held at Proviso, and seventh in the district meet held at Evanston.

Captain Phil White paced the Oak Park squad with a second in the league meet and a fourth in the district meet. Phil placed nineteenth in the state meet held at Peoria. Mike Drees, a senior, Roger Cram and Arnold Zimmerman, both juniors, furnished able support throughout the season.

The Varsity basketball team captured the Suburban League title with a twelve-win, two-loss record, and had a season record of eighteen wins and four losses. A 51-45 conquest of New Trier in the final league game gave the Huskies the championship. Coach Harry Kinert's team won three of the four non-conference games it played. In state tournament competition the Huskies won the Proviso Regional but lost their first sectional encounter to New Trier.

Team balance was the key to the Huskies' success. An example of the team's depth lies in the fact that eight players were individual game high scorers. Despite this team depth several individuals can be singled out for recognition. Co-captains Tom Donahoe and Don Caputo, together with Bud Dike, were named to first string All-League teams. Donahoe led the team in scoring with 262 points, while Dike was third in league scoring.

Coach Wright's Varsity track team concluded a successful indoor season by winning the Oak Park Relays, the largest indoor track meet in the country. The trackmen won seven meets and came out second in the Suburban League Meet.

Several outstanding indoor trackmen will be counted upon for outdoor successes. Co-captain Dick Flodin, third in last year's state 440, set a new field house record of 51.3 seconds in that event this year. The Huskies' other co-captain, Art Clark, third in last year's state high hurdles, was hampered by a pulled muscle in the indoor season but should be ready for a fine outdoor season. Nick Kredich, league high jump champ, and Gordon Bell, league pole vault champ, have been consistent point getters. Phil White, author of a 2:01.9 indoor half mile, should do well in the outdoor season.

For the first time, monograms are being awarded for both indoor and outdoor seasons.

Kredich clears in high jump.

The Varsity swimming team had a successful season, winning nine dual meets, losing three, and placing third in the Suburban League. Coach Bill Kogen's team also won a quadrangular meet with East Rockford, West Rockford, and Proviso. The Varsity, paced by Jack Powers' win in the fifty-yard free style, placed fifth in the state meet. The fresh-soph tankmen also placed third in the Suburban League.

Standouts throughout the season were Jack Powers, who was undefeated in his fifty-yard free style specialty, and set a new pool record in that event, and Don Rogers, who also backstroked his way to a new pool record. These boys were elected by the team to be co-captains for 1954.

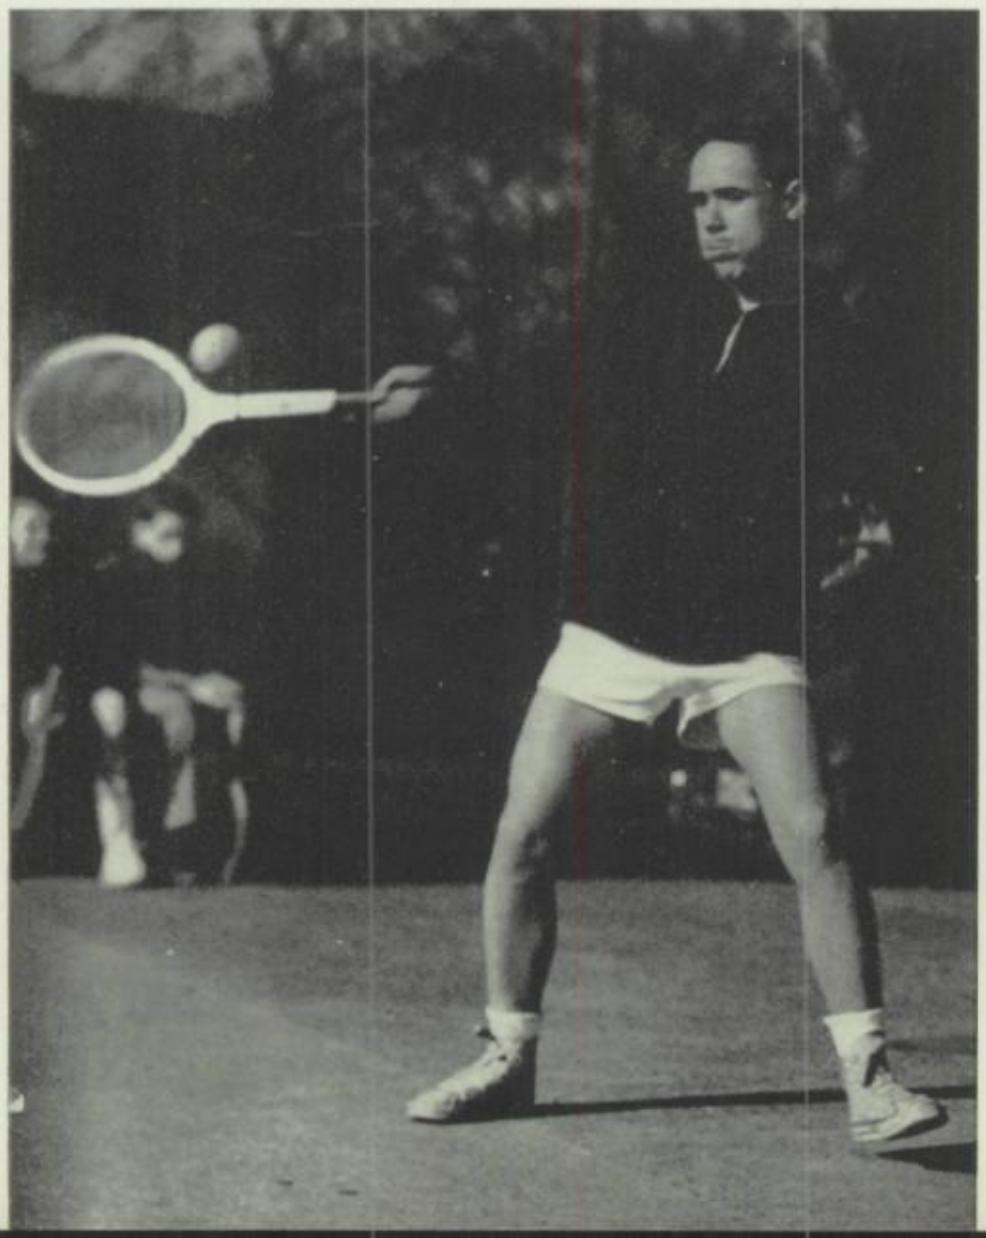
Dave drives deep.



The Varsity tennis team appears to have a very good chance to capture its sixth successive state championship. Coach Rudy Witsman's squad is led by last year's state singles finalist, Dave Sofield. The other two singles men, Dave and George Leonard, are also veterans of last year's successful campaign. The first doubles spot is held by the team of Bob Baehr and Ladd Fagerson, while Dave Brown and Roger Barney are the double combination in the number two position.

Led by several returning sophomore letter men, the fresh-soph squad is looking forward to a good season, too. Victories in early contests forecast an excellent season for both tennis teams.

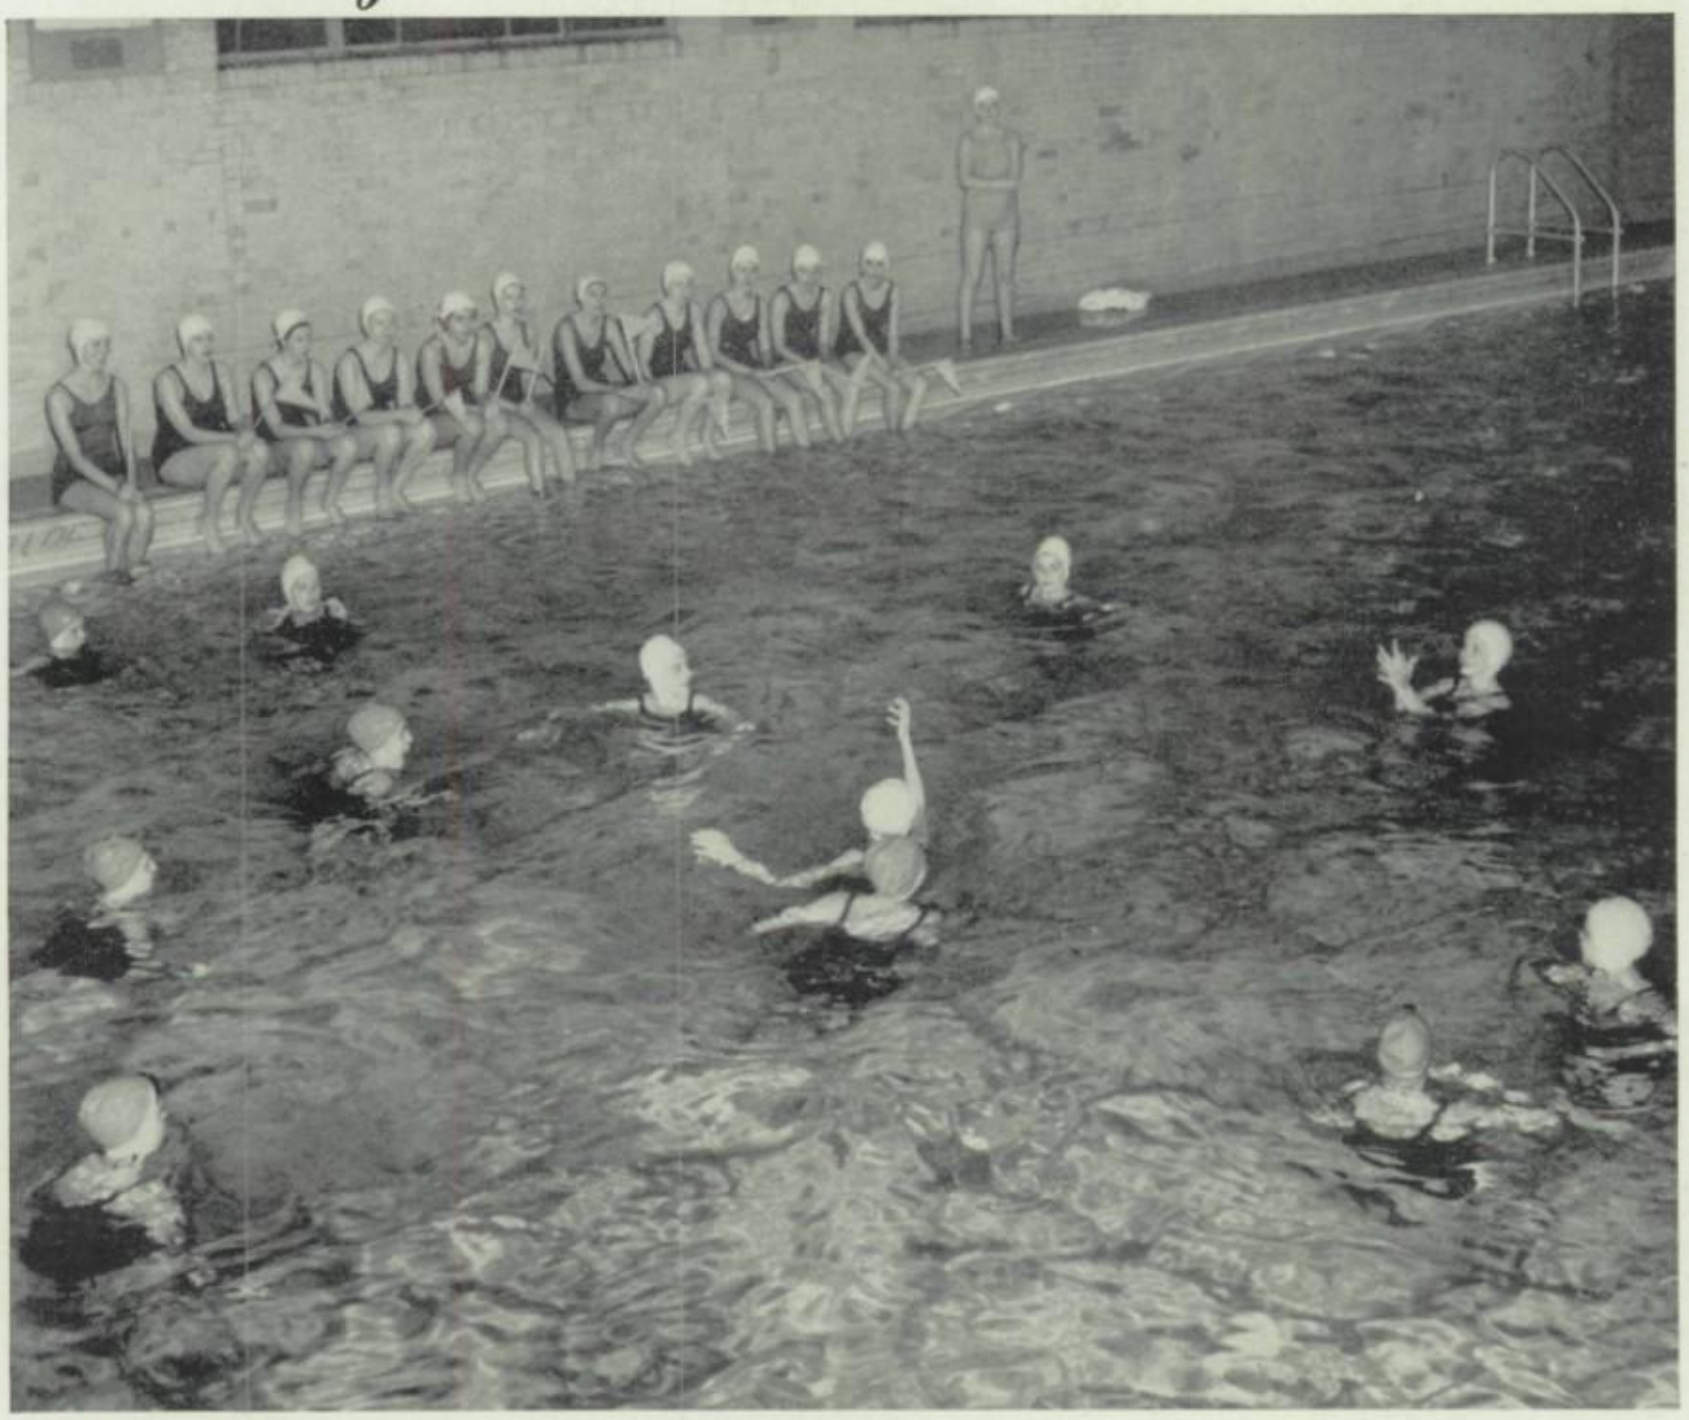
Swimming Demonstration . . .



. . . Presents Patterns of Action

On Friday, November 14, the parents and friends of girls in advanced swimming classes and after-school classes crowded into the balcony of the girls' pool to see the Swimming Demonstration of 1952. The classes had been working hard for several months to perfect their numbers.

Many and various strokes and stunts were demonstrated. Some of the strokes used in the program were the front crawl, back crawl, side stroke, and breast stroke. Back dolphins, somersaults, and surface dives were only a few of the stunts performed. Each class wore different colored suits. These colors, with the blueness of the water, made a beautiful sight for the people in the balcony.

The different strokes used in classes were shown by the "Waves," selected swimmers from each swimming period. The Waves demonstrated perfect rhythm and coordination. The members of the after-school classes then presented two well-planned numbers. The first was an octette, and the second was called "Lovely Hula Hands."

The eighth period class formed tandems and created an unforgettable sight. The fourth and tenth period classes did a combined number. The intricate figure swimming brought applause from the audience. Floats were shown by third and ninth period classes. Finishing the biennial demonstration was the comedy football game by second and fifth period classes.

Winter Activities . . .

Basketball

The basketball tournament, played in February, was an intramural contest which resulted in a three-way tie. The senior class became the victors after a play-off filled with spirited rivalry.

The juniors won the volleyball tournament over the freshmen and the seniors in March. They challenged the faculty and won again. Tenth period became the champions in the interclass tournament.

Atalanta Encourages Girls' Sports

Atalanta is the girls' sports club of the school. Each girl must earn at least thirty-two points a semester in after-school activities to remain in the club. G. A. A. awards are given to "high-pointers."

Sports and games are the main features in each club meeting. Playdays on Saturday are attended by Atalanta members who travel to other schools and participate in sports with girls from those schools.

Mothers' Tea

The Mothers' Tea is one of the social highlights of Atalanta. A great amount of effort goes into this affair, and committees work long and hard to make it a success.

This year Atalanta welcomed the mothers and guests on December 12. A Christmas play was presented. G. A. A. awards were given out to the girls who had earned them.

Football Dance

Atalanta is the sponsor of the annual Football Dance. In the morning before the big night, all members meet to decorate the field house.

Atalanta Banquet

The Atalanta Banquet, which completes the club program, is an event anticipated throughout the year. On May 8, in the school lunchroom, a good dinner was served, followed by a well-planned program. Felt emblems were distributed to the winners of G.A.A. awards. A great amount of speculation and suspense preceded the announcement of new officers.

Departmental Clubs . . .

The Departmental Clubs are those that are directly related to the courses taken in school. Their main purpose is to supplement the classroom activities and to enlarge upon the material that can be only slightly touched in regular class work.

The Departmental Clubs are not organized as classes but rather as informal groups for fun and mental recreation.

Debating Clubs . . .

The five Debating Clubs offer excellent opportunities for practice in speaking before groups. In addition to experience in debating and in listening to debates, a member of one of these clubs gains a practical knowledge of parliamentary law, and learns how to conduct an orderly discussion.

A typical meeting consists of a debate, an oration, and a law drill. For the lighter side of the meeting, extemporaneous speeches and a skit are given.

The debating clubs are made up of juniors and seniors.

Dramatic Clubs . . .

In order to accommodate the many students who are interested in becoming members of a drama organization, three clubs are provided. Masqueraders is for the sophomores, Footlights for the juniors, and Drama for the seniors.

Members receive some experience in many forms of stage life: casting, directing, make-up, acting, and staging. The program at each meeting is usually a play, followed by a discussion period and refreshments.

Hobby Clubs . . .

The purpose of the five Hobby Clubs is twofold. They help interested "laymen" start a hobby. Secondly, club meetings provide a place at which "old hands" can get together for the purpose of furthering common interests.

Boys' and Girls' Camera Clubs endeavor to teach members the basic elements of good photography. Story Club meets to discuss and criticize stories, plays, and poems written by its members. The hunting and fishing enthusiasts of Sportsmen's Club hold several outings each year. Prospective "ham" operators receive training in Radio Club.
